

WorkForce Software Supports National Breast Cancer Awareness Month at National Conferences

WorkForce Software Donates Funds to the Susan B. Komen Foundation

Livonia, Mich., October 3, 2006 - WorkForce Software, Inc., a leader in enterprise time and attendance software systems, announced its support for National Breast Cancer Awareness Month at national conferences in October. As an exhibitor, WorkForce Software is donating funds to the Susan B. Komen Foundation for each 3-Day bracelet given to an attendee who stops by the booth.

WorkForce Software is exhibiting at the 2006 HR Technology Conference & Exposition in Chicago on October 4 – 5, and the 2006 Oracle OpenWorld, in San Francisco, October 23 - 26. This is an opportunity for attendees to speak with WorkForce personnel, see a demonstration of the time and attendance solution, as well as make a difference and help make a donation to breast cancer research and prevention.

WorkForce Software provides web-based, enterprise time and attendance solutions to employers with larger workforces. This solution streamlines time and attendance data collection, and its data-driven rules engine automates complex business policies to ensure accuracy and compliance. Customers also benefit from the combined knowledge of WorkForce consultants, who not only implement the solution, but provide analysis of payroll processes and best practices that help with state and federal compliance issues, including those focused on the Family Medical Leave Act and the Fair Labor Standards Act. By automating time and attendance processes, companies will typically see a return on investment within a year of deploying the software – reducing data entry errors, using less resources, spending less time, and increasing productivity during payroll accomplish this cost savings.

“During National Breast Cancer Awareness Month, we saw an opportunity to help divert business funds to breast cancer research at the trade events we attend,” said Kevin Choksi, President and CEO of WorkForce Software. “We donated the money reserved for event marketing to an organization that can help millions of people. We salute the Susan B. Komen organization for its efforts to bring an end to this terrible illness.”
